

SUPERSTORM

COMING TO A CITY NEAR YOU?

HD

3 x 50 minutes

BBC Worldwide

In this exciting, reality-based thriller, a team of scientists attempt to do the seemingly impossible – control the weather.

A scientific team are brought together to develop ideas on diverting the course of hurricanes and preventing disasters like Hurricane Katrina ever happening again. But what starts out as a theoretical research project turns into something else entirely when the team are asked to put their ideas into practice.

After successfully weakening and diverting the course of a small hurricane in the Pacific, they are asked to create a new weather system to divert another hurricane – but it may also cause severe flooding in the poorer states of the US. The moral implications of what they've been asked to do splits the team and they decide to pull the plug on the experiment.

When they discover that their computer files have been hacked, and a suspicious weather system develops over the United States, they realise that whoever hacked into their computer has gone ahead with their experiment to try to divert the hurricane away from Miami.

They discover that there has been a critical error, the hurricane will be deflected away but will continue moving up the coast – to New York, where it will hit with the impact of a Category 5 Hurricane – a Superstorm.

It seems that the team have helped to give birth to something truly terrible – the ability to manipulate the weather to the point of devastation. Can they halt the hurricane before the entire city of New York is destroyed?

Packed full of action and breathtaking CGI, Superstorm is as compelling as it is nightmarish.

Starring
Nicola Stephenson
Holby City, Clocking Off

Tom Sizemore
Hustle, Saving Private Ryan

Chris Potter
Sex Traffic, Law and Order

Kenneth Welsh
Four Brothers

Maury Chalkin
Dances With Wolves

Jana Carpenter

Written by
Edward Canfor-Dumas
Pompeii – The Last Day

Producer
Ailsa Orr
Supervolcano, Hannibal

Executive Producer
Michael Mosley
Leonardo, Krakatoa – The Last Days

A BBC/Discovery Channel/ProSieben
co-production in association with M6 and NHK